

Problème pour enregistrer un meeting

1. The ability to record meetings in Teams may be disabled by your organization's administrator. You can check with your IT department or administrator to confirm whether recording is enabled.
2. To record a meeting, you must have the appropriate permissions. If you are not the meeting organizer or do not have the necessary permissions assigned to you, the "Record" button may be disabled.

3. If you are using Teams in a web browser, the ability to record meetings may not be available. Try downloading the Teams desktop app and join the meeting from there.

4. If the meeting is a live event, recording is handled differently and may not be available. Check with the meeting organizer to confirm whether recording is allowed for the specific meeting
